SECOND OF MAY, TWO THOUSAND TWENTY-FIVE

SCHOOL OF THE ARTS

Message From the Dean

"Do not go where the path may lead," 19th-century writer Ralph Waldo Emerson wisely said. "Go instead where there is no path and leave a trail."

1

The arts cultivate courage and invite us to explore, uncover, and discover. They teach us to be daring, inquisitive, and bold. The arts are a vehicle for communication, the practice of which is transformative both for our audiences and viewers as well as for ourselves.

The art of discovery requires familiarity with the unknown. Rarely are new pathways direct; they are almost always circuitous with an unpredictable humor all their own. Our graduates know the heartbreak of setbacks — washouts, downed trees, and the occasional mudslide. But they also understand that obstacles are not barriers but opportunities to refine processes and think in new ways. In the words of composer and bandleader Duke Ellington, "A problem is a chance for you to do your best." Propelled forward by perseverance coupled with a deep passion for the arts, our graduates have solved problems and forged their own unique and transformative pathways and trails for others to follow.

Graduation marks the celebration of one journey's end, a time to reflect upon mileposts and turning points, thorny wilds, and sublime panoramas. But the journey of education is never a solitary one; it is a shared expedition. Graduation is a time to express gratitude to all those who gave assistance and support along the trail, from family, friends, and four-legged companions to faculty and staff cheering every step of the way.

Today, we celebrate the persistence, innovation, and imagination of our incredible graduates of the 2024-2025 season. We, the faculty and staff of the School of the Arts, express our heartfelt congratulations to those completing programs in art & design, dance, music, and the theatrical arts. Congratulations, graduates, on completing your own unique journey. As you celebrate the fruits of your hard work and sacrifice, we wish you continued success in all your endeavors, wherever your path takes you. As you dream new dreams and chart unknown trails to explore, never forget the power of the arts to inspire, encourage, teach, and transform. In the words of artist Louis Bourgeois, "Art is not about art. It is about life, and that sums it up."

In celebration,

Courtney R. Davis, J.D., M.A.
Dean

KAYLIE WALKER SHORT

Bachelor's Valedictorian

B.S., Theatre Arts

Kaylie Walker Short is from Riverton, Utah, and attended Riverton High School. She is receiving her Bachelor of Science in theatre arts. While at UVU, Short participated in student teaching intermediate theatre classes at Union Middle School. It was rewarding to see young students build confidence through performing. Her favorite part of UVU is that it is truly a place for everyone, regardless of background, religion, or socioeconomic status. "I'm grateful for the endless support from my husband, Stephen, my mom and dad, and my inspiring classmates and professors," she said.

ALLISON WILKINSON

Associate Valedictorian

A.S., Art & Design

Allison Wilkinson is from Herriman, Utah, where she attended Providence Hall High School. She is receiving her degree in art & design. "I've learned a lot while being here at UVU," she said. "I've learned to push myself, work harder, and gain new insight into the art and marketing world. I'm excited to see what careers will come my way with the knowledge that I've gained." After graduation, she plans to continue her education, working toward her bachelor's degree and working in advertising. She loves to write music, paint, and read.

Student Awards

MADDALENA WILLIS

Dean's Distinguished Student Award
B.F.A., Painting and Drawing

Maddalena Willis hails from Midway, Utah, and attended Wasatch High School. Willis attended UVU on a four-year visual arts Sterling scholarship. While at UVU, Willis has enjoyed tremendous academic success, including membership in the UVU Honors Program, an internship at the UVU Gallery on 6th, and becoming a Regent's Scholar. Following graduation, she plans to pursue a graduate degree and work toward an M.F.A. in painting.

MARY JONES

Outstanding Student: Art & Design
B.A., Art & Design

Mary Jones is from Eagle Mountain, Utah, where she attended Herriman High School. She attended UVU for its inclusive environment and to pursue a career in art education. She has had her work featured in multiple publications, including "Touchstones" and "Essais." Of her time at UVU, Jones said it has been "exceptional." Upon graduating, she hopes to find a job in art education and apply for a master's program.

HEATHER MORLEY

Outstanding Student: Dance
B.F.A., Modern Dance

Heather Morley is from Highland, Utah, and attended Lone Peak High School. She is receiving a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree with an emphasis in modern/contemporary dance. While at UVU, Morley has worked with dance companies both in and out of the state of Utah. "The Contemporary Dance Ensemble has provided many engaged learning experiences that are core memories for me," Morley said. "The engaged learning has helped me understand what it takes to be a part of a company and helped me network with artists all around. I have been able to create a strong curriculum vitae with the help of the faculty here at UVU." She hopes to dance professionally with a modern/contemporary company after she graduates.

VANESSA MELENA

Outstanding Student: Music
A.S., Music

Vanessa Melena is from Orem, Utah, and attended Mountain View High School. She is receiving an Associate in Science in music. Among her many accomplishments at UVU, Melena has sung in many ensembles, performed the lead role in UVU's opera production of "Hansel and Gretel," and became the assistant conductor for the UVU chamber choir during the fall 2024 semester. After graduating, Melena plans to finish her bachelor's degree in music education and become a choir teacher. She loves her fiancée, Tyler, as well as music, nature, and Oreos.

KAITLIN LEBEAU

Outstanding Student: Theatre
B.A., Theatre Arts

Kaitlin Michelle LeBeau hails from Star Valley, Wyoming, where she attended Star Valley High School. LeBeau has an impressive list of achievements from her time at UVU. During her sophomore year, she received a meritorious award from the Kennedy Center for her work on "Romeo and Juliet." She has acted in, designed, and directed a number of productions here at UVU. This summer, LeBeau will be the assistant director in the production of "The Wizard of Oz" at Sundance. She hopes to apply to graduate schools within the next year and work in university or regional theatre.
